Tuttle Brothers have closed several unimportant deals this week, and have others in hand that will run well into money. They report business increasing this pleasant weather.

"Improvements amounting to $150,000 will be made in the near future in the property of the Mill Creek Power company near the mouth of Mill Creek canyon, in the southern part of Salt Lake county," says F. M. Lyman, Jr., secretary. At a recent meeting of the directors of the company it was decided tary. At a recent meeting of the directors of the company it was decided to construct a new power plant near the mouth of the canyon. This will be supplementary to the present plant, some three inlies above the new site. The old plant already has two miles of pipe line, including the wooden stave line. The proposed new power plant will require five miles of piping, probably a 30-inch wood-stave to be used. There is a fall of 1,070 feet with a vertical fall of 600 feet, giving a minimum of 1,000 and a maximum of 1,500-horse power. At the bridge north of the mouth of the canyon will be constructed a power house for the United States Smelter company, which will be furnished by the Mill Creek company. A large force of men will be put to work in the next few days, and it is expected that the new power plant will be ready to transmit power for various businesses in the vicinity not later than Dec. 1, 1910.

The ennouncement during the past week of the purchase of seven new building sites with intentions to erect handsome homes in the near future in Federal Heights indicates that the warm weather has brought out people who are looking for locations for high class homes. The number of inquiries for home sites in the addition also shows that others have been attracted by the improvements carried out in the heights and the prospect of baving beautiful homes surrounded by all the natural beauties of the suburbs and still near enough to the center of the city to be within easy touch of all that is afforded there of business and pleasure. The plans for the new department store to be creeted here by the Auerbach interests are expected from the east daily, and the constructive work will begin immediately after the rasing of the old two-story building.

The Utah Factories

The Utah Fire Clay company con-templates the expenditure of $50,000 in improvements and additions to the Sait Lake plant. This will greatly increase the capacity of the present plant, making it possible to supply the ma-terial demands for a radius of several hundred miles. This week, Lawrence Greene, president and manager of the company, went east to purchase the necessary machinery and other equip-ment.

Rapid progress has been made this week in the renovation of the old Clift house corner, Main and Third South, and in the work on the new building adjoining it on the north. Sixty days will show great improvement to this corner.

The old Thirteenth ward schoolbouse an Second South, east of the Grand theater, is being torn down, the work now practically completed, and a new modern business block will be erected in its stead.

Forty-two acres of land, near State and Fifteenth South streets, have been purchased from Peter Gordon and the E. P. Park estate by N. M. Long & Co., a recently incorporated real estate firm. It will be platted and placed on the market at once. A contest for a name for this new addition will be started, the winner to receive a prize of $25 and a free lot. The street car divides the property, which will be greatly improved immediately.
